In this context the overarching role of food requirement of increasing population, food industry need innovative ideas in the field of food processing and preservation as well as intervention of biotechnology and other sciences. The abundant availability of agro raw materials and energy and the integration of knowledge from other scientific disciplines (e.g., engineering, physics, nutrition, toxicology and biotechnology) further boosted the growth of the food and drink industry to a robust industrial sector. The main challenge for the Agro-Food industry in the coming decades is to guarantee the availability of safe and healthy food for a growing global population, against the background of increasing consumer demands, sustainability concerns as well as resource demands for bio-based (non-food) applications.
