Cleanliness Drive by Faculty of Legal Sciences

Cleanliness is a habit not an act and this habit can be inculcated. On September 12, 2023, the Faculty of Legal Sciences took an initiative to create awareness under Swachhta Pakhwara and organised the cleanliness drive in areas in and around Vrindhavan Garden and H-Block. The students of faculty of Legal Sciences along with faculty participated in the Cleanliness drive. The students were asked to assemble outside the H Block towards Vrindhavan Garden. The students were made aware about the importance and methods of handling waste responsibly and how to take a step towards a cleaner environment. A total of 45 students of faculty of legal sciences participated in the cleanliness drive. The students were divided in different groups and different areas were allotted to them starting the cleanliness drive from Vrindhavan Garden and touched the adjacent areas in the pipe forest along with Vrindhavan Garden and after that moved towards the H Block. The students and faculty were provided with the garbage bags, gloves, and dusters. Each group worked very efficiently and made a sincere effort to clean the whole area. It took around two hours to clean the area and in all full nine bags of garbage was collected by the students and faculty of Legal Sciences.

Cleanliness Drive by School of Biological and Environmental Sciences & School of Physics

A cleanliness drive was organized by the School of Biological and Environmental Sciences and School of Physics and Materials Sciences, Shoolini University, around campus area of the university, on September 12, 2023, as a part of “Swachta Pakhwada 2023” celebration. The main motive behind this event was to promote cleanliness and encourage students to adapt a sustainable way of life. The cleanliness drive was a huge success with a significant participation of both faculty members and students. More than 35 students and five faculty members participated in this event. We started our ‘Swachta Abhiyan’ by cleaning the surroundings of the main entrance of the university campus and surrounding areas with shops and cafes. The event started at 11:00am and continued till 1:00pm in the afternoon, during which designated areas were cleaned by the participants.

Awareness about the importance of cleanliness and health hygiene was also spread among the local communities. By promoting cleanliness, proper waste management, and sanitation practices, it directly improves public health, reduces environmental degradation, and fosters economic growth. Overall, the cleanliness drive was a successful initiative towards promoting our commitment towards “Swachh Bharat Abhiyan” that contributes to global efforts, aligning with the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals. It was a step towards creating a better future for the planet and its inhabitants.

Cleanliness Drive by School of Journalism and New Media

The School of Journalism and New Media at Shoolini University actively engaged in the Swachhta Pakhwada Cleanliness Drive, demonstrating its commitment to promoting a clean and hygienic environment. This initiative involved the enthusiastic participation of both students and faculty members from the school. The cleanliness drive area covered from the Shoolini University's main gate to the Vasundra Hostel, covering a significant area on the campus. Students and faculty members collaborated to ensure the success of this event. They collected garbage and waste materials, filling four bags in the process. This hands-on effort exemplified the school's dedication to taking practical steps towards maintaining a clean and healthy environment.

Beyond the physical cleanup, the School of Journalism and New Media also aimed to spread a vital message: the responsibility for maintaining cleanliness lies with everyone. The active participation of students and faculty served as a powerful reminder that we all play a role in keeping our surroundings clean and litter-free. School of Journalism and New Media's involvement in the Swachhta Pakhwada Cleanliness Drive showcased their commitment to fostering a cleaner and greener campus. This initiative not only improved the immediate environment but also instilled a sense of responsibility and awareness among participants and onlookers alike. It stands as a testament to the school's dedication to civic and environmental responsibility.

Cleanliness Drive by MS Swaminathan School of Agriculture

A cleanliness drive was conducted by MS Swaminathan School of Agriculture on 13th September 2023 under Swachhta Pakhwada Campaign. The activity started at 10:30 AM and the area from Shri Ram Hostel to Aryan PG was selected for cleaning. Students were provided with gloves and waste collection bags by the team of Director Operations. A total of thirty-four students participated and were divided into two teams, with 17 students in each team. Team A was given the area from Sriram hostel to Five Star hotel and Team B was allotted area from Five Star hotel to Aryan PG. The faculty members also covered the whole track along with the students and participated equally. Due to the shops and food courts on the roadside, maximum garbage consisted of the wrappers of the food products. Along with cleaning it also bought a sense of realisation among students that if each one of us will be careful about throwing even a small toffee wrapper in the dustbin it can prevent the accumulation of garbage in the streets and can keep our environment clean. It took around two hours for the cleaning of the area and then after the hard work put into small cleaning refreshment was provided to the students by the faculty members.

Cleaning drive by School of Pharmaceutical Sciences

In a resounding display of commitment to cleanliness and community welfare, The School of Pharmaceutical Sciences, New Boys hostel to Vasundra PG, orchestrated a Swachta Pakhwada cleanliness drive that set an inspiring example. Ninety first-year students, along with twenty final-year students, and three faculty members rallied together in a powerful demonstration of their dedication to a cleaner and healthier society. The cleanliness drive was more than just a tidying-up campaign; it carried a powerful message about the importance of taking action for a cleaner environment. The students, as future healthcare professionals, understand that a clean environment is pivotal to public health. Their actions resonated far beyond the boundaries of their academic institution.

Beyond the physical transformation of streets and public spaces, this drive sent a profound message: that education is not confined to textbooks but extends to active participation in societal well-being. By bridging the gap between theory and practice, these students showcased the importance of putting knowledge into action. The Swachta Pakhwada campaign by the School of Pharmaceutical Sciences serves as a compelling reminder that every individual, regardless of their field of study, can be a catalyst for change. It is a testament to the idea that, united by a common purpose, we can create a cleaner, healthier, and more sustainable world for everyone. The impact of this initiative goes far beyond the immediate community, inspiring others to join the journey towards a Swachh Bharat, a cleaner India.

Manav Mandir visit

Student volunteers from Shoolini University went to Indian association of muscular dystrophy to volunteer and meet the children and parents who are suffering from muscular dystrophy. This was a first visit of many of our new volunteers who experienced meeting little children suffering from a disease which has no cure. They also met and interacted with the parents of these young kids who have to reconcile to the fact that muscular dystrophy cannot be cured, and its prognosis gets worse as time passes by. However, the Indian association of muscular dystrophy helps these young children and adults to cope with this problem and suggests many lifestyle changes which can help them lead a better life. Our students regaled their audience with singing, dancing and other fun games and came back to campus after adding a lot of smiles on the faces of the young patients.

Guru Talk by Ex Squadron Leader Tulika Rani

Shoolini University organised a Guru Talk session featuring the Everester Squadron Leader Toolika Rani (retd). Renowned for her multifaceted accomplishments, including mountaineer, international motivational speaker, TEDx speaker, author, Ambassador of India for women empowerment, participant of World Leader Summit and G-20 brand ambassador of UP. She emphasised the significance of acknowledging failures as integral to one's journey towards success. In her captivating Guru series address, she stressed that while success often defines individuals, it is the failures that lead to those triumphant moments. She encouraged everyone to openly share their failures, as it not only helps others learn from these experiences but also offers a chance for personal growth.

During the session, Toolika Rani shared her remarkable journey from her time in the NCC to her illustrious career in the Indian Air Force and her awe-inspiring ascent of Mount Everest. Her willingness to recount her failures served as a powerful source of inspiration, urging attendees not to be disheartened by setbacks. She affirmed that settling should be reserved for inanimate objects, as human beings are meant to move, explore, and follow their dreams, mirroring the perpetual motion of the particles on Earth.

Among her numerous achievements, Squadron Leader Toolika Rani's crowning glory was becoming the first woman from Uttar Pradesh to conquer Mount Everest in 2012 and the first Indian woman to scale Asia's highest volcano, Mount Damavand. Her exceptional contributions have been recognised with 17 prestigious awards, including the Rani Laxmibai Bravery Award from the U.P. government and the Global Woman Award from FICCI.

The event was organised by the Office of Dean Student Welfare, Mrs Poonam Nanda and her team. The event was appreciated and acknowledged by all faculty, staff, and students of Shoolini University.

Mahatma Gandhi's Birth Anniversary Celebration

Shoolini University celebrated the 154th birth anniversary of the Father of the Nation, Mahatma Gandhi, with a grand Swachhhta campaign. The university organized a special visit to Dagshai museum, a place where Mahatma Gandhi had spent a significant day to express his support to the Irish prisoners. Mahatma Gandhi's visit to Dagshai was a historic moment as this marked his entry to Himachal Pradesh. The university also conducted a cleaning campaign at Jatoli temple, a heritage site of Solan city.

The campaign, titled "Ek Din Ek Ghanta," encouraged volunteers and students to get together and devote one hour of their time to clean and maintain the pristine surroundings of Jatoli temple. This effort aimed to not only pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi who considered cleanliness to be equivalent to Godliness but also to ensure that future generations can appreciate the cultural and historical heritage of our country. The event was organised by the office of Dean Student Welfare, Mrs Poonam Nanda and her team.

Mental Health Day Celebration

World Mental Health Day is an international day for global mental health education, awareness, and advocacy against social stigma. It was first celebrated in 1992 at the initiative of the World Federation for Mental Health, a global mental health organization with members and contacts in more than 150 countries. Overall objective of World Mental Health Day is to raise awareness of mental health issues around the world and to mobilize efforts in support of mental health.

The Day provides an opportunity for all stakeholders working on mental health issues to talk about their work, and what more needs to be done to make mental health care a reality for people worldwide. This year on Mental Health Day, Shoolini University organized some awareness activities for mental health issues. The students and faculty members from Department of Psychology put up the activities stalls at Pine Court Area. They also tied the green colour wrists bands on the wrists of faculty members and students. Green is associated with positive thinking and peace of mind. The organized some fun activities. An activity was organized in which participants had to write on a sheet of paper about the things that make them happy. Vice Chancellor Prof. Atul Khosla who also visited the venue participated in this activity. Vice-chancellor appreciated the efforts of students and faculty members to organize this event.
