Capacity building for Women

Shoolini University, in collaboration with the National Commission for Women (NCW), organised its inaugural 'Capacity Building and Personal Development Programme' yesterday. The seminar, aimed at promoting gender equality and empowering women, received overwhelming participation from girl students across various prestigious institutions. Out of the 152 universities that applied for the Capacity Building and Personality Development seminar, Shoolini University was among the 61 selected institutions. The event witnessed the attendance of girl students from SILB, Nursing College, Dr. YS Parmar University of Horticulture and Forestry Nauni, and Shoolini University, making it a truly impactful gathering.

The National Commission for Women (NCW) is a statutory body that serves as an advocate for the rights of Indian women, advising the government on policies affecting women. The commission provided valuable support to the programme, further highlighting its commitment to empowering women and addressing issues of concern. The seminar was focused on securing women's rights and entitlements through effective policy formulation, legislative measures, law enforcement, scheme implementation, and strategies to combat discrimination and violence against women.

The event commenced with the opening address by Mrs. Saroj Khosla, President of Shoolini Foundation and SILB, who emphasised the innate qualities of women such as intuition and kindness. She encouraged the attendees to practice the affirmation 'I can do it; I will do it' and recognized the pivotal role of girls as builders of the nation. Dr. UK Neogi, the keynote speaker, Indira Gandhi Sadhana Awardee and Director of Research Projects at Shoolini University, shed light on the progress of empowering women globally. He highlighted the programme's objective of promoting women's empowerment through capacity building and personality development, focusing on employment preparedness, interpersonal skills, and creative thinking.

Ms. Delina Khongdup, a practicing lawyer and Chief Guest of the programme, emphasised that a country cannot be considered developed unless its women are empowered. Ms. Khongdup also highlighted the Women's Day 2023 theme, "DigitALL: Innovation and Technology for Gender Equality."

Dr. Deepshika Kalra, Dean of the Management Education and Research Institute at Delhi, presented on cybercrimes and highlighted features in applications designed to protect our interests. Notably, she discussed Gmail, Google Drive, and Google Sheets, showcasing security features to safeguard personal information. Dr. Amar Rao, Associate Professor at Shoolini University, shared valuable insights on essential abilities for workplace success. He emphasised effective communication, problem-solving, teamwork, adaptability, and time management as crucial skills for a thriving career. The seminar also featured an engaging questions and answers session led by Ms. Poonam Nanda, the Dean of Student Welfare.

Dhananjay Talk on Gender Equity

The concept of gender equity goes beyond mere equality. It represents a vision of fairness, justice, and equal opportunities for people of all genders. In recent years, there has been significant progress towards achieving gender equity. One of the key aspects of gender equity is the empowerment of women. But gender equity is not just about women. It also encompasses the experiences and rights of individuals who do not conform to traditional gender norms. For this, Shoolini University organized a talk on gender equity featuring Mx. Dhananjay Chauhan who is a gender rights activist. She emphasized on providing minor genders with the tools, resources, and support necessary to make their own choices, control their own lives, and participate fully in social, economic, and political spheres. She said that we must strive to create a society that embraces diversity and inclusivity, where people of all genders are respected, valued, and given equal opportunities. This involves challenging harmful stereotypes and biases, promoting LGBTQ+ rights, and ensuring that everyone has the freedom to express their gender identity authentically.

DST-STUTI Training Programme from July 22

1 year ago admin (<https://himachaltonite.com/author/admin/>)

Solan, July 18

Shoolini University, in collaboration with Sophisticated Analytical Instrumentation Facility (SAIF) at Central Instrumentation Lab (CIL), Panjab University, Chandigarh, is hosting a training session on biotechnology techniques in the university campus from July 21 to July 27.

The training programme will be organised by the Faculty of Applied Sciences and Biotechnology (FASB) Shoolini University Solan.

Prof R.C. Sobti, Professor (Emeritus), Department of Biotechnology, Ex-Vice Chancellor, Panjab University, will be the mentor of the programme. Shoolini University Chancellor Prof. PK Khosla and Vice Chancellor Prof. Atul Khosla have said that it would be a landmark workshop.

The scheme "Synergistic Training Programme Utilising the Scientific and Technological Infrastructure" (STUTI) is intended to build human resources and their knowledge capacity through open access infrastructure across the country. As a complement to the various schemes of Department of Science and Technology, the funding for the expansion of research and development infrastructure at academic institutions, the STUTI scheme envisions a hands-on training programme and sensitisation of the state-of-the-art equipment as well as towards sharing while ensuring transparent access to science and technology facilities. This will be the first DST-STUTI training to be organised at Shoolini University. The programme will provide hands-on training in molecular biology to the participating PhD students and teachers from all over India, according to the conveners of the programme, Prof Anuradha Sourirajan, Dean Biotechnology, and Prof Sunil Puri, Registrar and Dean Academics.

The programme will feature expert talks from Prof. R. C. Sobti, eminent biotechnologist, and Prof. PK Seth, Former Director, Indian Institute of Toxicology Research (ITRC), Lucknow and Ex-Founder and CEO, Biotech Park on the opening day on July 21. During the training, experts from both academia and industry, such as Mr. Vishal Anand, Socio-Entrepreneur and Co-Founder, Shoolini University; Dr. Narendra Chirmule, Co-founder and CEO, Symphony Tech Biologics; Dr. Sunil Babu, BBAU, Lucknow; Dr. Anand Kumar Bachhawat, Professor, IISER Mohali, Chandigarh; Dr. Manishi Mukesh and Dr. Monika Sodi would speak to the participants.

Session on Cancer in Literature Festival

The third edition of Shoolini Litfest included an insightful session called "Surviving Against Odds," moderated by Dean of Student Welfare (DSW) Poonam Nanda. The session revolved around the uncertainties of life and how one can survive and overcome them. The panellists for the session were Sanjay Deshpande, Aditya Arun, and Pallavi, who shared their own experiences of surviving against the odds and gave advice to the audience.

The session started with Poonam Nanda introducing the topic and the panellists. She emphasized that life is unpredictable, and we must prepare ourselves to face any challenges that come our way. The panellists then shared their personal experiences and how they dealt with unexpected situations. Sanjay Deshpande talked about his near-death experience and how it changed his perspective on life. Aditya Arun shared how he overcame the challenges of being visually impaired and pursued his dreams. Pallavi spoke about her journey of coping with grief and loss and how she found solace in writing.

The discussion highlighted the importance of mental strength, resilience, and having a support system. The panellists also talked about the role of literature in helping people cope with difficult situations. They recommended the book "Don't Ask Me How I'm Doing: Life, Death and Everything in Between" as a valuable resource for people facing similar challenges.

The session was a part of the third edition of Shoolini LitFest, which was a huge success. The LitFest provided a platform for authors, poets, and thinkers to come together and share their thoughts and ideas. The session on "Surviving Against Odds" was an inspiring and thought-provoking discussion that left the audience with a lot to think about.

Sidharth Basrur talk on Drug Addiction

On November 22, 2022, a talk was organized by famous Bollywood singer Siddharth Basrur. He was in Shoolini University for 3 days to guide students on music and more importantly share his journey as a youngster. He bared it all to the audience speaking about his drug addiction very early in life and how that was responsible for many more vices like stealing and alcohol consumption. He said that his stay at the rehab where he was allowed to pursue music was a godsent. He said that on this day he had given up all his vices 20 years ago and has stayed clean. It was surely an inspirational story that was highly appreciated by the students. Sid said that it's very important to cut off the thought process early only then can one resist the temptation.

Swarnim Himalaya Summit Shimla

The Swarnim Himalaya Conference recently took place in Shimla, showcasing the collective efforts towards healing and sustainability of the Himalayas. The conference aimed to bring together various stakeholders, including environmentalists, researchers, and policymakers, to discuss and strategize ways to preserve and restore the Himalayan ecosystem. This report provides a brief overview of the conference, highlighting key participants, notable events, and the emphasis on zero expense experience and experimentation. The conference was honoured to have Diya Mirza, a renowned actress and environmental activist, as the chief guest. Diya Mirza's presence not only added star power to the event but also highlighted the importance of environmental conservation. Her passion for sustainable living and commitment to environmental causes served as an inspiration to all attendees.

Shoolini University was appreciated and recognized for the efforts and initiatives undertaken to heal the Himalayas. The event served as a platform to acknowledge and celebrate the work of environmentalists, local communities, and institutions dedicated to preserving the Himalayan ecosystem.

Sustainability was a central theme throughout the conference. The discussions revolved around finding sustainable solutions to address challenges such as climate change, deforestation, biodiversity loss, and waste management in the Himalayan region. The Swarnim Himalaya Conference encouraged all stakeholders to combine their efforts to achieve significant impact. The event fostered networking opportunities and collaboration among individuals and organizations working towards a common goal.

One unique aspect of the conference was its commitment to providing a zero-expense experience and promoting experimentation. The organizers aimed to minimize resource consumption, reduce waste generation, and create an eco-friendly event. This approach not only aligned with the principles of sustainability but also set an example for future conferences and events.

Talk by Poornima from YouWeCan

December 01 was World AIDS day, and a multitude of events were organised in the campus for awareness. A talk by Ms Poornima was a part of this awareness drive. Having worked in this field Poornima drew some hard-hitting examples from real life that she had encountered. She explained how homes and lives are destroyed because of lack of awareness. She said that it's important not to victimise people suffering from HIV. On the other hand, she said it was important for each one of us to be aware ourselves and spread this awareness. The focus should be marginalized communities and women who are often the unknowing victims. The students had a lot of questions which were suitably answered at the end of the session.
